

Volunteering opportunity: "Lighting Manager"
What can you do?	To apply the international lighting standards to an event with Prem Rawat in the country where it is being held, taking into account the equipment and personnel resources. The Lighting Manager is responsible for the lighting quality at an event and works with the Production Manager to help develop lighting equipment and personnel.
What skills and experience do you need?	Be able to:: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • execute event lighting specifications as per the international standards • plan and execute the lighting set-up • suggest all lighting solutions to the Production Manager • be responsible for the effective teamwork of the lighting team • develop personal and lighting team expertise • select the lighting area event personnel and propose operator names to the Production Manager • organise the lighting set-up and operation, troubleshooting and problem solving • ensure that the lighting team understands the importance of timing, scheduling, principles of safety and cooperation with other event teams • read, draw, explain and modify a lighting set-up diagram • specify the lighting trusses, weights, equipment and connections • install the lighting system according to the lighting rules and event standards, making any necessary equipment adaptations • source lighting suppliers and personnel (to submit to the Production Manager) • prepare and deliver risk assessments and method statements for each installation The applicant should have previous experience of managing event lighting productions and the ability to work with a team and make decisions. They must be able to work in an organized way, responding to messages in a timely and precise way. They will have computer skills, access to email, and the ability to send and receive standard software documents. The applicant must speak and write English.
What resources do you need?	English language computer. Some travelling might be required (so far no reimbursement is planned)
Where can you do it?	At home, during the preparation time before an event. The last part on site.
When does it	Every time there is an event, particularly in the European area.

need doing?
How long does it take?	Job begins about 1 month prior to an event for an average of 2 hours a day (can be less depending on the type of event and the advance notice) plus the last 1 to 3 days on site for the event set-up and take-down.
Whom do you contact?	<table border="1"> <tr> <td>laurazeta@infinito.it</td> <td>A further contact will be made with the project manager for a more specific evaluation.</td> </tr> </table>	laurazeta@infinito.it	A further contact will be made with the project manager for a more specific evaluation.
laurazeta@infinito.it	A further contact will be made with the project manager for a more specific evaluation.
By when?	On going project		